

I am grateful for giving me this opportunity to teach in the school I graduated from, which brings back so many memories by just the thought of it.

My name is Ghada Soboh Ramadan, I am glad that I will teach Math and Science for cycle 2 students.

My duty is to shape the future of every child, with their different abilities. I believe that teaching will become meaningful when it is done with love and affection.

I completed my Bachelor of Science and Math education at the Lebanese university in 2004. I have been teaching Math and Science for more than 11 years in Makassed Abi Bakr AL Siddeeq.

My strength is that I taught my subjects for the first three cycles.

I have the ability to shift between different levels easily taking into consideration the age of the students.

Coming to my family, I am married to Samir Ramadan and I have two children: Lynn and Omar.

My favorite hobbies are traveling and sports, I have been practicing Bodybuilding for two years. That's all about me.

Thank you again for giving me this opportunity to teach in your school.

I am glad that I have been granted the precious opportunity of becoming the head of cycle three department at Makassed (KBWH) for the academic year 2017-2018. A brief introduction about my academic, professional, and personal aspects is definitely of crucial importance.

I have thirteen years of experience in the field of education. My career is built on profound teaching and supervising bases. My belief that learning, teaching, and pedagogy combine to frame a student and develop a citizen as well, has led me to develop my career with devotion and knowledge. Hence, for eight years, I got experienced as an English teacher for cycles one and two at “Al Bayader” and “Lycee National” school. Later, due to my effective communication and my problem-solving skills, academic, and administrative potential, Le Lycee National granted me a promotion to supervisor’s post for cycles two, three, and four. Throughout my seven years as a supervisor, exerting positive changes and impacting students’ personal academic and social lives have been my aim. In addition, being Omar and Lea’s mother enables me to involve my emotions for the benefit of my students.

My passion towards development and learning thrived me to pursue my master’s degree in education while concurrently enjoying and practicing my profession. Being Cycle Three head of department, I trust that my vast experience and endeavor for better achievements will provide added values to Makassed (KBWH) school in general and cycle three in particular.

A few of my favorites:

Color: white and purple

Book: Forty Rules of Love

Season: spring

Proverb: Beauty is in the eye of the beholder

Hello, I am Nawaf Al-Kassem, a Physics instructor since 1996 and selected as a Microsoft Expert Educator for the year 2017-2018.

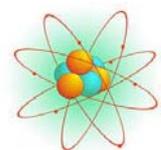

"Physics is the analysis of nature conducted in order to understand how the universe behaves" and I have been teaching this subject for over 20 years now. My aim is to make the subject-lovers love it more and the subject non-lovers reconsider their opinion.

Teaching is a passion and I followed that passion through a lot of research to reach this deep understanding of the atom anatomy. This has granted me a PhD title preceded by a Master's degree in teaching Physics for secondary classes.

I am a Lebanese citizen who lives in Beirut. I am married to a school counselor and have 3 lovely kids Celia, Ahmad, and Karim. My favorite hobbies are Scuba diving and sports in general.

As an instructor who dealt with different generations and age groups, I believe that mutual respect is the key for a successful teacher- student relationship in which both parties cooperate for the benefit of the whole system (school, student, teacher and parents).

Hello! My name is Mariam Alameddine & I'm so excited to be a member of Makassed KBWH. I'll be cycle's one science teacher. It's going to be a year full of inspiring learning and new adventures and I can't wait to see what the year has in store for us!

Last year, I was the substitute teacher for Science and Math subjects in Makassed ABAT. I taught grade two, three and four for about 3 months. It was a great experience!

What I want you to know is that in my classroom every student is cared about and all ideas and thoughts are valued.

Here are few of my favorite things:
